For the Louisville Democrat.

SHERIDANSBURG, KY., June 4, 1864.

MESSRS. EDITORS: I take this occasion to express my thanks to the Democracy and other friends of the Fourth District, for the cordial and patriotic support they desired to give me at the time fixed by law for a Congressional election, in August, 1863. My gratitude is in no degree diminished by the fact that four-fifths of the Democrats of the Fourth

District and State generally, were prevented from voting their ticket, or driven into the support of the Brantley ticket, by a worse than French Reign of Terror, superinduced

by Barnside's proclamation of martial law, and military orders issued to control the election. These orders were chiefly executed in the name of the Union.

But we did not feel disposed to humane ourselves at the expense of the Democrats.

So far as we are concerned, we were compelled to stand by our friends.

NOTICE TO CITY SUBSCRIBERS.
The Daily Democrat delivered by carriers throughout the city will hereafter be at the rate of twenty cents per week.

Important Notice.

Owing to the increased expense of every article used in the printing business, and an advance of twenty-five per cent. on the expense of composition, we are compelled to increase the cost of the Daily Democrat. Hereafter the Daily, by mail, will be seventy-five cents per month, or four dollars for six months, or seven dollars per year—always in advance.

CITY NEWS.

THE DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION WILL MEET AT Louisville, June 15, 1864.

MEETING OF THE SCHOOL BOARD.—The School Board met at the usual time and place, President Clements in the chair.

John G. Baxter and J. H. Rorer appeared as new members and took the prescribed oaths.

Bills reported by the Finance Committee, amounting to $7,319 41, for teachers' salaries, general expenses and repairs, were ordered to be paid.

The Committee of Examination and Control made a report containing regulations respecting the approaching examinations in the ward and High Schools, which was adopted.

A resolution was adopted, accepting the preposition of Messrs. Barnes & Burr, of New York, for the introduction of Monticello and McNally's system of geography.

The Committee on Grievances in the case of the punishment of Charles Kirkiliter, made a report which, on motion, was received. On motion the case was dismissed.

The reports of the Principals of the Male and Female High Schools were read and suggestions contained in them were adopted.

The resignation of Robert W. Hays was read and accepted.

Superintendent Tingley presented the report of Prof. Hallinan, who was requested by the Board some time ago to assist in examining the schools in "Object Teaching." The report was quite full, critical and interesting, and was referred by the President to the Committee of Examination and Control.

Mr. Shafts was appointed on the Committee on Rules.

Messrs. Parsons and Robinson were appointed on the High School Committee.

Mr. Baxter was appointed on the Committee on Salaries and Supplies.

Prof. Ernst was appointed to assist in examining the German departments of the schools.

THE RACES AT WOODLAWN TO-DAY.—The regular spring meeting over the Woodlawn Course commences to-day and continues through the week. The different stakes on the ground are filled with the finest stock of the country, which is to contend for the different prizes offered. To-day there will be two races—the first mile heat, three best in five, between Robt. Johnson's b. m. Maul Broux, John Thornton's b. m. Fanny Burks, and Wm. Brown's s. m. Belle Chaffant.

The second race is a sweepstakes for three years old, miles heat, for which there are three entries:

D. L. Gregory name b. c. Stonewall Jackson, by Len Rogers; dam Virginia Mare.

R. A. Alexander name b. f. Hermosa, by Edwin Forrest; dam Black Rose (dam of Native American).

L. D. Dorsey, Jr., name — Lydia Gold-dust.

In addition to this we learn that there will be a match race of mile heats between two well-known horses of this city for $300 a side. The track is in excellent condition, and the horses all being well matched, an exciting scene and fast time may be looked for. Every arrangement has been made for the accommodation of visitors, and the attendance will no doubt be large.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS.—Monday, June 6.—Hettie, slave of Thomas Shanks, stealing a pair of shoes from Isaac Brauman; five stripes.

Wm. Spaulding, charged with passing counterfeit bank bills; continued until to-morrow morning.

Chas. Miller, stealing an empty pocket-book from Mr. Joseph, worth ninety cents; discharged.

Thomas Ferry, drunkenness; fined $5.

Mary Ryan, drunkenness and brawling, escaped from the workhouse; sent back to finish her term of sixty days.

Mike McNally and Tom Welch, drunkenness and disorderly conduct, were fined $5 each, and $100 security for six months' good behavior.

Elizabeth Brady, disorderly conduct—discharged.

James Williams, disorderly conduct and exposing his person; fined $20. Went out.

Pauline Judd and Isaac Tompkins, charged with harboring slaves of Mr. Gilbert; continued until to-morrow.

Newton Wager, drunkenness; fined $5.

Several peace and assault warrants continued, in consequence of this being docket day.

COURT MARTIAL.—The only case before the court yesterday was that of Capt. Benjamin W. Tucker, of the Twenty-second Massachusetts infantry, charged with shooting at and wounding private Milo Coval, of the First Rhode Island battery, at the barracks in this city a short time since. The prosecution was finished, when the case was continued until to-day for the defense. This will be the only case before the court to day, as there are a large number of witnesses to be examined.

We call the attention of our friends to the card of our bindery. Mr. Williamson is a thorough workman, and will give perfect satisfaction to all who employ him. He will turn out as neat work as can be made in the city, and as promptly. Give him a trial once and you will send him again.

Col. Bullitt, of the Third Kentucky infantry, arrived on yesterday's train from the front. He is severely wounded, but doing well. He is at the Officers' Hospital.

Col. Campbell, of the Second Michigan cavalry, was admitted to the Officers' Hospital Sunday.

Col. Alfriend will be at the race course to-day, and every day during the week, to sell pools. He will also sell of nights at the Hotel de Raine.

POOLS ON THE RACES.—Giles & Alfriend will commence to sell pools on the races at the Hotel de Raine on Monday night at 8 o'clock.

BOARD OF TRADE.—The Louisville Board of Trade will meet to-night at Masonic Temple, south room, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. J. H. Wilson, express messenger on the steamer Tarascon, has our thanks for file of papers from below.

At this hour (10 o'clock Monday night) we have no news of Federal reverse, and cannot account for the sudden jump gold has taken in the New York market since Saturday, when it was quoted opening at $1, declining to 90%, and closing firm at 91%@ 91%. On Monday it opened at 93% and closed at 94%. The increase is too great and too sudden to be a merely speculative advance. There must be some more serious cause for the advanced rates—some reverse or disaster that has not yet transpired to the public. Still, the latest news we have at this time from the Army of the Potomac is more favorable, indeed, than it has been for some time past. The semi-official dispatch of Secretary Stanton, dated Washington, 6th instant, 7 o'clock A. M., says:

Dispatches from Grant's headquarters, dated 6 P. M. last evening, state that there had been no fighting during the day.

The enemy made an attack Saturday night on Hancock, Wright and Smith, but were repulsed with loss. Hancock's lines are within forty yards of the rebel works.

The rebels were very busy Saturday, constructing intrenchments on the west side of the Ohio River, and making a bridge, and there is a party across to the east side.

A dispatch from Sherman yesterday afternoon at Allerton, Illinois, states that the enemy, discovering us moving around his right flank, abandoned his position last night and marched off.

McPherson is moving to day for Ackworth. Thomas is on the direct Marietta road and Schenck on his right.

It is raining hard for three days and the roads are heavy. The enemy had an immense pavilion crowded with a highly delighted audience. The mere announcement that the champion horse-back rider, James Robinson, would appear, is sufficient to draw a crowd. He is the champion rider of the world, as all who have seen him will testify, while those who have not should not miss the opportunity now offered them. The entire company are excellent, and altogether, it is the best circus we have ever seen.

The double somersault of Behrheit is truly wonderful. Aymar and Davenport keep the audience convulsed with laughter by their drollery and wit.

They give two grand entertainments to-day, at the corner of Second and Gray streets, at half past two o'clock in the afternoon and half past seven in the evening.

SALON MADE BY THE MARSHAL OF THE LOUISVILLE CHANCERY.—Robinson and Howes' Circus and Circus opened in this city last night, and notwithstanding the unpleasant weather, the immense pavilion was crowded with a highly delighted audience. A long letter from Fremont, accepting the nomination for the Presidency, concludes as follows:

If the Republican convention at Baltimore will nominate any man whose past life justifies well-grounded confidence in his fidelity to our cardinal principles, there is no reason why he should not be elected, dividing among the really patriotic men of our country. To any such shall be most happy to give a cordial and happy support. My own decided preference is for the man who I believe will be fatal to the country to endorse a policy and renew a power which has cost us the lives of thousands, and which, if continued, will lead us on the road to bankruptcy—there will be no alternative but to organize against him every element of conscientious opposition, with a view to prevent such a misfortune as his selection.

On this contingency I accept the nomination at Cleveland, and in taking this preliminary step have resigned my commission in the army. I am sorry to sacrifice my pay, but I had for a long time fruitlessly endeavored to obtain service. I make this sacrifice now only to regain liberty of speech, and leave in the way open to me, to my utmost ability, to serve before me.

With earnest and sincere thanks for your expressions of confidence and regard, and for the many honorable terms in which you acquiesce in my action of the committee,

I am, gentlemen,

Very respectfully and truly yours,

J. C. FREMONT.

John Cochrane also has written a letter accepting the nomination for Vice President.

New York, June 4.

The Tribune's special from Headquarters Army of the Potomac of Thursday, June 2, says the principal operations of the Fifth corps on Monday were followed up by the advance of the Second corps Thursday morning, which compelled the enemy to withdraw from their line in the Totopahon, and have retreated to the south side of the Chickahominy, with the exception of their line to retard our advance. Our cavalry entered Mechanicsville last evening, after scouting about the old battle-field. The rebels, however, did not pursue his left flank successfully, and his strategy baffles the maneuvers of the enemy, having offered them battle on the Totopahon, with his right wing resting on the Virginia Central railroad, and his left wing and shell soon to enemy to withdraw across the Chickahominy.

He has thrown his left wing with his usual celerity away to the east of Richmond, and is now threatening the crossing of the Chickahominy at Bottom's bridge, which is the point of interest. Bucky Smith arrived from the White House just in time to see the action in the city and co-operate with our left flank. Last night he was successful in his efforts, and called that a severe battle had been fought. Our new base is now completely established at the White House.

New York, June 6.

The Herald's correspondent with Sherman details the battle of New Hope Church, June 28th ult. About three P.M. the enemy gave signs of activity, and soon moved a heavy body en masse from the wood before McPherson's army and advanced in division. They marched boldly to the left, crossed the Chickahominy fire. When they had reached less than one hundred yards of the breastworks, our infantary poured upon this mass a terrible volley. The column was broken, but though fired, and made efforts to approach closer. This now became hotly engaged, and though the rebels greatly outnumbered us, they were held at bay. Our artillery secured a better position, and the rebels and shell soon sent the rebel mass rushing for the protection of a ravine and wood near by.

Another attack was soon made upon another portion of McPherson's line, commanded by General Ord. The rebels made a gallant and more impetuous, it met the same fate. A full ensue; but the rebels were brought up for a third attack still against McPherson and Sweet's corps, and the Sixteenth corps. They first presented the rebels with a strong front, but did not last as long, as they were disengaged, and were sent back with serious loss.

From prisoners we learned that the rebels exacted a heavy toll of the divisions of the flower of Johnston's army, commanded by Cheatham, Calhoun, and Bates.

Five hundred will cover our total losses of the day.

The rebels hurried five divisions against three of ours.

The Herald's correspondent with Butler says of the battle at Hatcher's on Thursday: "The rebels opened with artillery, and massing in a body, drove on our picket line, and captured a number of us. Their third New Hampshire. We then drove the rebels back, capturing twenty-five prisoners. Two others were captured and driven off, but none of them succeeded in their object, and through our lines. Our losses are heavy, but those of the rebels are much heavier. We took between sixty and seventy prisoners."

New York, June 6.

The Tribune's correspondent with Sherman details the battle of New Hope Church, June 28th ult. About three P.M. the enemy gave signs of activity, and soon moved a heavy body en masse from the wood before McPherson's army and advanced in division. They marched boldly to the left, crossed the Chickahominy fire. When they had reached less than one hundred yards of the breastworks, our infantary poured upon this mass a terrible volley. The column was broken, but though fired, and made efforts to approach closer. This now became hotly engaged, and though the rebels greatly outnumbered us, they were held at bay. Our artillery secured a better position, and the rebels and shell soon sent the rebel mass rushing for the protection of a ravine and wood near by.

Another attack was soon made upon another portion of McPherson's line, commanded by General Ord. The rebels made a gallant and more impetuous, it met the same fate. A full ensue; but the rebels were brought up for a third attack still against McPherson and Sweet's corps, and the Sixteenth corps. They first presented the rebels with a strong front, but did not last as long, as they were disengaged, and were sent back with serious loss.

From prisoners we learned that the rebels exacted a heavy toll of the divisions of the flower of Johnston's army, commanded by Cheatham, Calhoun, and Bates.

Five hundred will cover our total losses of the day.

The rebels hurried five divisions against three of ours.

The Herald's correspondent with Butler says of the battle at Hatcher's on Thursday: "The rebels opened with artillery, and massing in a body, drove on our picket line, and captured a number of us. Their third New Hampshire. We then drove the rebels back, capturing twenty-five prisoners. Two others were captured and driven off, but none of them succeeded in their object, and through our lines. Our losses are heavy, but those of the rebels are much heavier. We took between sixty and seventy prisoners."

Washington, June 6—7 A.M.

Dispatches from Grant's headquarters, dated 6 P.M. last evening, state that there had been no fighting during the night.

The enemy made an attack Saturday night at 10 P.M., but, as Smith, but were everywhere repulsed. Heavy rebel lines are within forty yards of the rebel works again.

The rebels were very busy Sunday, constructing intrenchments on the west side of the Chickahominy, at Bottom's bridge, and their party accross to the east, about half a mile.

A dispatch from Sherman yesterday afternoon, at Alton Creek, states the enemy, discovered as moving round his right flank, abandoned his position last night and marched off.

McPherson is moving to-day for Ackworth. Thomas is on the direct Marietta road and Schenck on his right.

It has been raining for three days hard, and the roads are heavy. The enemy had an immense line of works, which we have turned, with less loss to us than them.
